Disneyland 10th Anniversary Show	DATE - January 3, 1965 SUMMARY - To celebrate the "first fabulous decade" of the park, Walt previews what is to come, as "anything's possible at Disneyland." He is joined in this episode of Walt Disney's Wonderful World of Color by Julie Reihm, the first Disneyland Ambassador. We are led through the Imagineering department, where we see Mary Blair designing the facade for the It's a Small World attraction. Marc Davis is seen working on the Haunted Mansion. We also see a miniaturized layout of the Pirates of the Caribbean, including a "walking the plank" scene that was eventually cut. Tinker Bell then leads us to Sleeping Beauty Castle for the 10th anniversary celebration. A giant birthday cake and dancing candles sing the Sherman Brothers penned "Anniversary Song." Walt then recaps the brief but busy ten year history of the park. Along with shots of various foreign dignitaries, we get to see the infamous ribbon-cutting, or more appropriately, ribbon-tearing ceremony of the Monorail with Richard Nixon and family. And Walt seems especially proud of his fleet of submarines, the eighth largest in the world. The Mills family tour the Swiss Family Treehouse followed by a behind-the-scenes peek at the Enchanted Tiki Room courtesy of Jose the Audio-Animatronic parrot. The day is capped off with a nighttime performance of various Dixieland bands on the Rivers of America, including the Firehouse Five Plus Two making a return engagement to the park. What is a real treat here is Walt. All throughout this episode, he is particularly playful and charming, interacting with the Imagineers and fawning over Reihm like a proud uncle. EDITED FOR DVD - When the DVD version of the 10th Anniversary Show is compared to previous broadcast airings, it appears that the Enchanted Tiki Room sequence has been shortened. The original sequence ran a total of 10:46, but the DVD version clocks in at only 4:51, meaning that 5:55 has been removed. The removals include many complete songs from the show. BROADCAST VERSION <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Introduction by Walt - 0:53 2. Behind the Scenes Tour by Jose - 1:50 3.
