Title	Description
Mickey Cuts Up	DATE - November 30, 1931
	DIRECTOR - Burt Gillett
	SUMMARY - Mickey and Pluto go over to Minnie's house to do some yard work. Pluto causes problems when he chases a stray cat while the lawnmower follows his every move.
	BEHIND THE SHORTS - Marcellite Garner, the voice of Minnie Mouse, offers an inspired performance for Minnie.
Mickey's Orphans	DATE - December 9, 1931
	DIRECTOR - Burt Gillett
	SUMMARY - Mickey and Minnie are celebrating Yuletide when a bunch of orphan kittens are left on their doorstep in a basket. Although they are overrun by the troublemakers, Mickey, Minnie, and Pluto try to give the kittens a Christmas party.
	BEHIND THE SHORTS - This was the first Mickey cartoon short nominated for an Academy Award.
The Duck Hunt	UNCENSORED - Mickey and Minnie provide the orphans with popguns, hammers, axes, saws, and miniature cannons!
	DATE - January 28, 1932
	DIRECTOR - Burt Gillett
	SUMMARY - Mickey takes Pluto duck hunting, but the tables are quickly turned. Who is the hunter and who the hunted?
Mickey's Revue	BEHIND THE SHORTS - Patriotic music appears throughout the Disney shorts, and Mickey and Pluto "pass and review" in The Duck Hunt to a medley of many traditional standards including "Yankee Doodle Dandy" and "Dixie." This short is prefaced by a "1932" date card.
	UNCENSORED - Mickey's got a gun!
	DATE - May 25, 1932
	DIRECTOR - Wilfred Jackson
	SUMMARY - Mickey, Minnie, Horace Horsecollar, and Clarabelle Cow put on another big show. In the audience, Dippy Dawg is a constant annoyance eating peanuts and laughing.
	BEHIND THE SHORTS - Features the first appearance of Goofy, although for this and several shorts following he was known as "Dippy Dawg."
	UNCENSORED - The stage curtain is made from asbestos, a carcinogen now found to cause cancer. Theater safety curtains were made from fireproofed materials to act as a fire stop between the stage and the auditorium.
